Two Great American and English Syndicates Combine.

The Construction and Maintenance of Railroads and Other Public

New York, July 13.-A combination has been entered into between the American China Development Company, better known as the Chinese syndicate, which the late Senator Calvin S. Brice organized, and the British and Chinese Corporation Limited, an English syndicate. The purposes of both include the obtaining of entracts, decrees, and concessions and the construction and maintenance of railways and other public works in China. A formal contract between the two syndicates was made on February 1. The contract recites, among other things, that the parties in each intend to furnish the neces sary capital to exploit the enterprise they may respectively undertake and to provide for the management of the same, that there are difficulties in the way of procuring such capital by reason of the fear that contracts entered into in China may not enjoy the same inviolability as here and in England; that is is desirable to enand in England; that is is desirable to en-desvor to procure all protection possible for the upholding of such contracts; that it is believed by the parties that the Gov-ernments of their respective countries, by uniting in the assurances of protection of the rights of their respective subjects and citizens, will afford an effectual force for the protection of such enterprises, and that united action by the two Governments will be assuranted by the union of the two synbe promoted by the union of the two syn

Each party offers to the other an option on one-half its can interest in any bust ness hereafter obtained by it in the Em-pire of China. The agreement is made t pire of China. The agreement is made to apply to the preliminary contract which the development company has already entered into for the construction of a railway from Hankow to Canton, and to the preliminary contract which Jardine, Mathieson & Co., on behalf of the British concerns, have entered into for the construction of a railway from Canton to Kow Leon. The following statement as to the contract was given out today by to the contract was given out today by Secretary T. S. Beatty, on behalf of the

The contract between these two cor-porations is the first and probably the only visible form of the Anglo-Saxon alliance, and makes a combination of the most powerful capitalists in the world. One contract with the Chinese Government calls for a survey of the line of the railway from Hankow to Canton, which has been made by Mr. W. Barclay Parsons, engineer of the Rapid Transit Con mission. An agent of the syndicate is now in Shanghai in reference to some of the provisions of the contract. It is understood that the negotiations at Pekin have reached a critical point, and that there is a disposition on the part of the Chinese Government to avoid the fulfillment of the Lord Salisbury has already in structed Sir Claude Macdonald to treat th contract as if it were a British contract and urge the fulfillment of its terms upon the Chinese Government. The develop-ment Company has asked the Government of the United States to take a similar po-sition, and General Parson, who has re-cently returned from China, leaves for Washington tomorrow to present this request to the Government. Frederick W. Whitridge, of the law firm of Cary & Whitridge, which, since the formation of the Chinese syndicate, has been its counsel, has been made a member of its comsel, has been made a member of its committee, taking the place of the late Sena-tor Brice. Concord, N. H., July 13.-The investigation of the charges against Senator Gallinger before the United States Civil Service Commission in this city was brought to a close this afternoon. Commissioner Harlow has already left the city and Commissioner Brewer and Agent Wales will leave in the morning. The Commissioners this afternoon sent Special Agent Wales to secure written statements from those who would not appear in person. He got one from William F. Thaver. Treasurer of the Republican State Committee, in which the latter reiterated his former statements made by letter that he was personally and solely responsible for the assessment circular and that Senator Gallinger had nothing to do with it.

Secretary of State Edward N. Pearson who was manager of the Rumford Printing Company, where it is supposed the circulars were printed, made a statement in writing to the effect that he should consider the relations between the printing company and its customers as private and beyond the scope of the enquiry of the Commission. This completed all the evidence that could be secured, and Commissioner Harlow took a noon train for

He said that he had been a friend to both Senator Chandler and Senator Gailinger for twenty years, and on that account asked to be relieved from sitting on the Commissioner Brewer also favored asking Governor Busiel to present his charges to a Federal grand jury, through a United States district attorney, but he was overruled and ordered to come here and pre-side over this investigation. "This, I did with as much vigor as I ever displayed in a trial in court. I have sought in every way to bring out pertinent facts. I never have had a thought of screening anybody from trial or from conviction for a viola-tion of the statutes," he said.

Why Mr. Brewer Got Angry. Commissioner Brewer quoted Senator Chandler's remark that the other investigators, Commissioner Harlow and Agent Wales, were "good fellows" and ex-

"I did nothing here except get mad that has not met the approval of those two 'good fellows,' and I take the responsibility for getting mad. If Senator Chaudler had continued those instinuations I would have flung him out of the window. No man with a particle of self-respect could six still and nermit such allegations to be made by with a particle of self-respect could sit still and permit such allegations to be made by a gentleman of his position." As to Senator Chandler's movement for his removal Mr. Brewer said: "He knows nothing about my relations with the President, and no more about the Civil Service Commission." orewer said: "He knows nothing about my relations with the President, and the distribution by the street railway employes of Tour Johnson. His action indicated that the action of the Commisly and undignified manner in which the chairman of the Commission was prairranged, so far as he (Brewer) was concerned. The complainant is satisfied with the exidence presented, showing that the sending of the circular letter asking contributions of United States officials had been fully proven, and that the attempt to throw the hurden onto Treasurer Thayer is cowardly and contemptible. Seador Gallinger was the active chairman of the Republican State Committee and all matters pertaining to the management of the Republican party must have been known to him. He was not there simply as a wallflower to decorate the hardquarters, but the minute details did not escape his attention, and all applications for money for campaign purposes were undoubtedly made to him by individuals of the various towns which required it, and no expenditure of melney for exampaign purposes could have been made, in my judgment, without his consent and by his order. The people of New Hampshire who have to do with politics will understand that that is the only way in which the campaign funds are distributed. Loveland, Ohio, July 13 .- The Democratsenatorial convention of the Second and Fourth districts, consisting of Clermon; Butler, Warren, and Brown counties, held at the opera house here today, resulted in a general malee between the contending Peter Schwab and James Campbell delegations from Butler county. Former Governor James Campbell proposed Allen Andrews of Hamilton for temporary chairman and Schwab backers urged U. F. Bickley. There was a rush for the stage and both Bickley and Andrews attempted to act as chairman. Everybody began to talk at once. For a half hour the confusion continued and feeling grew hotter and hotter. Finally the delegates came to blows. Sev-

MORGAN'S ANTI-BRYAN VIEWS.

Governor Johnston Likely to Become a Senatorial Candidate.

Montgomery, Ala., July 13.—Senator Morgan's recent interview advising that Democrats pay less attention to Bryan and free silver and agree on a Presidential candidate who will bring harmony to the party has occasioned great surprise and excitement in political circles in Alabama. The interview will likely result in Joseph P. Johnston, the present Governor of Alabama, making the race for the Senate against Morgan next year.

Mansfield, Mass., July 13.—The Bristol County Grand Army Association was addressed here today by Rev. Arnold Ross, of Taunton, pastor of the Universalist Church, who aroused the enthusiasm of the veterans when he said: "I pity the man who today, under the guise of 'b' heartedness,' is giving or endeavoring and his cohorts; who says that our Ad-ministration is vile and corrupt because of its tititude in pursuing the war in the Philippines: who is hissing the President and cheering Aguinaldo. These men are traiters to our Government, and I do not hestiate publicly to pronounce them as such. What we need today are more men who are not stuck on themselves but are willing to uphold the integrity and hon of the greatest country in the world."
